Reappointed Deputy Oil Inspector.

State Oil Inspector Frank S. Neal has reappointed Otto L. Sprague, of this city, as deputy oil inspector for the ensuing two years. Mr. Sprague has filled the position in a very acceptable manner for six years and his friends in this county are pleased that he has again been recognized. His district has been somewhat changed, now including the counties of Shiawassee and Livingston.

Representative Ward's Defense.

When the case against Representative Charles E. Ward, accused of manslaughter, in connection with the death of Edith Presley, is taken up in the police court Friday, there will be an imposing array of legal talent to represent the Bancroft politician. In addition to Senator Arthur Tuttle, chief counsel, and Attorneys Manchester and Prentiss, of this city, Ward has also retained lawyers Eugene L. Mistersky and James Murtha. It is likely that an adjournment will be asked on Friday, as Senator Tuttle is on his way home from Europe. However, the case against Dr. Fritch will in all probability proceed.—Detroit Free Press.

Good Races Again.

Mound Spring Berkshires Win at the State Fair.

Messrs. Hibbard & Brown have every reason to feel well satisfied with the premiums awarded their herd of Berkshires at the State Fair. With eight exhibitors they won five of the twelve first premiums they competed for, eight seconds out of twelve and one third; two championships, one grand championship and the two diplomas offered. Their awards were as follows:

Boar, two years old, second; boar eighteen months and under twenty-four, first; boar six months and under twelve, second; boar under six months, first; sow two years, second; sow six months and under twelve, second and third; sow under six months, first and second; exhibitor's herd, second; breeders herd, first; four either sex, get of same boar, first; four either sex, under six months, produce of same sow, second; champion boar, silver medal; champion sow under one year, silver medal; grand champion boar, silver cup; premier champion for exhibitor, based on premiums won, diploma; premier champion for breeder, prizes won on stock bred and shown by exhibitor, diploma.

Stock bred and sold by Hibbard & Brown won premiums as follows: first prize, championship and great championship on sow two years old; first on sow six months and under twelve.

Mr. Hibbard says the show of Berkshires this year was by far the best ever seen at a fair in Michigan.

Killed While Threshing.

Alfred Graham met death in a very peculiar manner at the farm of James Morgan near Morrice, Monday. Threshing was well under way when it was noticed that something was wrong with the blower belt and Graham started to fix it. In some way the belt caught him about the neck, throwing him to the floor with such force that his neck was broken and he became unconscious and soon died. Mr. Graham had lived in the neighborhood nearly all his life until a few months ago when he went to Minot, North Dakota. Recently he and his wife returned to spend a few weeks. His age was 42 years.

Seems Like an Unwelcome "Accident."

Rev. F. G. Ellett's announcement that he has decided to accept the consequences of the "accident" that secured for him a Democratic nomination for delegate to the constitutional convention and to remain on the ticket, has not been received with wild enthusiasm, especially in Democratic circles. Even members of that party of eccentricities profess inability to stand for the Mason minister's unique conception of what the constitutional convention should do. Furthermore, Rev. Ellett's decision to remain on the ticket interferes seriously with the plan of the Democrats to put but one man and that one a prominent Ingham county citizen on the ticket in the place of the three "accidental" nominees at the primaries, all of whom were expected to decline, in the hope of centering upon him enough support to elect him, on the plea that Ingham should be entitled to a place in the convention. But Rev. Ellett has given this plan something of an upset, as well as incidentally disgruntling sundry Democrats by announcing his acceptance of a Democratic nomination through the columns of a Republican newspaper. Judging from the reception Rev. Ellett's announcement has been accorded, he accepted the wrong nomination. He also was "accidentally" nominated by the Prohibitionists, and it looks like he would have received a warmer welcome had he accepted a place on their ticket.—Lansing Republican.

North Owosso Farmers' Club.

The North Owosso Farmers' club met August 22 with Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks, of Adams street, and the meeting was well attended.

The meeting was called to order by the president at the usual hour and was opened by prayer by the chaplain and a song by the club. The committee on sick reported that Mrs. Stiles was on the sick list and the entertainment committee reported that the next meeting would be with Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Place, September 20.

The following program was then carried out: "The proper arrangement of farm buildings." Mr. Miller thinks that they should not be on a line with the house, but either to the north or south of it. Mr. Day thinks that his buildings are about right and that all farm buildings should be arranged like his. Master Leland Willoughby then gave a recitation.

"What food is the best to produce the cheapest pork?" Mr. Sawyer and Mr. Stewart. The latter says that a good clover field is the thing and then fatten them when pork is high. Mr. Stiles thinks that to get the most profit out of them, it is not always best to feed them the cheapest food. He thinks ground barley or any ground feed is the best for young pigs, then finish them with corn. He says, "don't let them stop growing at all, there is more profit in them if you don't do this." Mr. Bock says push them along until they weigh about 160 pounds.

Music by Misses Clara Getman and Clara Fickenger was much enjoyed. The latter is a fine violinist and she responded to an encore.

"Which is the more profitable to feed grain, wet or dry?" Mr. Stiles prefers to feed dry grain to cows and wet grain to pigs. Mr. Galloway prefers oats and barley ground and then fed dry to pigs and cows, as they will eat it more quietly and not so greedily as other stock.

A song by Miss Clara Getman and Mr. Henderson was very amusing.

"Do you approve of shooting galleries in public school?" Mrs. Evans does not approve of them in schools but does think that it would be a good thing to have a gallery where the children could shoot one afternoon out of the week. Mr. Henderson does not approve of young boys handling fire arms.

Instrumental music by Miss Nellie Fickenger was enjoyed very much. A recitation by Miss Mattiebell Getman was very amusing and was enjoyed by everybody. She kindly responded to an encore. Miss Getman's recitations are always very much enjoyed by the club as they are always full of sunshine and mirth.

"What are the most necessary articles about the house which require your attention?" This was thoroughly discussed by all the ladies and there were many different opinions. Some thought that it should be a sanitary condition while others thought that plenty of light and ventilation was necessary.

Music by Miss Clara Getman and the Misses Fickenger.

Mr. Brooks then gave some instructive and interesting remarks concerning the benefit it would do the farmers if Owosso should establish a public market place.

The meeting was then adjourned, after a vote of thanks had been extended to the host and hostess for their royal entertainment. The hostess, assisted by her daughter then served an elegant repast, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Following is the program for the September meeting:

"Which is the worst, the spendthrift or the miser?" Mrs. Day and Mrs. Galloway.

"Does it pay the farmer to raise his own horses?" Mr. Greenwalt and Mr. Smith.

"Is the importation of cheap labor to do our labor in the beet fields inductive to the interests of our rural neighborhood?" Mrs. Place and Mr. Carson.

"Leaves as a fertilizer." Mr. Willoughby.

"Papering a room." Mrs. Henderson.

"The laboring man's opportunity as compared with 50 years ago." Mr. Clapp and Mr. Smith.

"Simple and wholesome deserts." Mrs. Greenwalt and Mrs. Stewart.

Selection, Mrs. Clapp.

The following from the Saginaw Courier Herald, applies to Owosso:

Parents whose children are not in school are likely to face trouble. The truant officer is active and children must attend. There is some trouble this year owing to the fact that the state law is not thoroughly understood. In the past children have been allowed to leave school when they attained the age of 15. The last legislature changed this. Now every child must attend until he is 16 years of age. No exceptions will be made. Unless the school records show that a child under 16 years of age is in school the truant officer will investigate and take steps to secure attendance.

Another change made by the last legislature effects the length of time allowed the parents after notice to put his child in school. Formerly it was not necessary to comply with the orders of the truant officer until a week after they had been given. Now a notice takes effect immediately. If the parents receive notice on one evening his child must be in school the following morning.

Temperance Association.

Friday in the Y. M. C. A. rooms was organized the Shiawassee County Amalgamated Temperance Association. A large number of people from all over the county and also adjoining counties were present to assist in the organization.

The forenoon was devoted to discussion of general topics and orders of organization and two committees were appointed. Nominative and for the formulating of the constitution and by laws. The nominative committee were James Hopson, Isaac Smith and Geo. P. Casler. The constitutional committee were Mrs. Anne B. McCarty, Rev. J. T. M. Stephens women and those young people who are opposed to the license or legalization of the liquor traffic, without regard to politics or party affiliations or religious beliefs.

In the afternoon the by laws were discussed and adopted and the officers elected.

The two-cent passenger rate has been in operation in Minnesota two months and during that time the passenger earnings of the railroads increased $150,000, but one road falling behind.

Last year 48,000 emigrants left Sicily for the United States, most of whom are now sending remittances home. Their departure has raised the wages of laborers in Sicily from 30 to 75 cents a day. The influence of the United States in the world's affairs is a large subject.
